Press Chairmen Given Scoop at CFWC Meet

"Facts of Life for Press Chairmen" was the topic of the workshop held by Mrs. Charles L. Blek, California Federation of Women's clubs publicity chairman, and Marina District press book chairman, at her home, 221 E. 64th Place, Inglewood, Tuesday.

Included in the workshop was instruction to press book chairmen on the making of the press book for this coming year. Invited to attend the meeting were the press chairmen, press book chairmen, and presidents of the 23 clubs of the district.

Speaking to the chairmen on the best ways to present your material to the papers were women editors of local newspapers.

Remembering the five "W" rules, who, what, when, where and why was stressed along with the importance of time element.

A brief resume of what a speaker had to say was suggested and the newspaper women also advised the group to be sure an article was given a reasonable length of time to appear before complaining about omission.

Different release dates for several newspapers received a no vote while respect of deadlines and of photographers working hours were pointed up as very important by the speakers.

Neat typewritten copy, one side only and double spaced with names spelled correctly and the inclusion of a telephone number were said to make the ingredients of a good release.

Above all it was pointed out that Press chairmen should have a sense of humor.

Following the speeches, Mrs.

Grant W. Putnam, president of Marina District, Mrs. S. W. Evernden, Marina District press chairman, South; and Mrs. S. J. Lere, Marina District press chairman, North were introduced.

Chairmen and presidents representing clubs in Marina District were Mmes. John R. Footlighters Announce Drama for City Groups

Footlight Theater of North Torrance announces that a short dramatic presentation will be available to local groups this fall.

The presentation, part of the theater group's promotion campaign will be available to service and fraternal organizations and PTAs. Herman Boodman, director, may be contacted at DA. 9-5338 for arrangements.

According to Boodman, Torrance does not have a true community theater, which he believes could easily be supported by a city of this size.

"Our intention is to build a theater that the whole family can work in and enjoy," he says.

The program planned by the Footlight Players will provide an outlet for citizens of Torrance, Boodman feels. He also states that the group would be interested in doing an original play written by anyone in Torrance.

The players now include, teachers, salesmen, housewives, and a surveyor to name only a few. The age of the members ranges from 13 to 60 years.

Melodrama, musicals, serious dramas, and comedies are planned along with a children's group.

To Attend Mass

Members of the Los Crusados Council of the Knights of Columbus and their families will attend Mass at the Nativity church in Torrance Sunday, at 8 a.m.

Edward M. Kleist, Catholic Activities committee chairman for the council, has announced that a quarterly Communion-Mass will not be presented. The breakfast would conflict with the annual council picnic, according to Kleist.
